Judge Orders 997 Cases of Liquor Sold

A decision by Municipal Judge John L. Wilson the County Judge to sell 997 cases of liquor seized by law enforcement officers be sold as contraband has been appealed to the Hempstead Circuit Court, Judge Wilson notified the Star Monday.

October 24 law enforcement agents seized the 997 cases of liquor under verbiage of Act 248 of the Acts of the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas for 1969 and the state asked that the liquor seized be declared contraband and sold.

Cactus Beverage Distributing Co. of Phoenix, Arizona, owner of the liquor, petitioned the court asking the release of all the liquor to the firm.

Following the seizure and charge by officers Municipal Judge Wilson asked both the defendant and State of Arkansas attorneys to file briefs setting forth laws and decisions of superior courts. Both sides submitted briefs.

The liquor was seized because a $50 permit which would have permitted it to be transported through Arkansas had not been purchased.

Judge Wilson ruled because this permit had not been purchased as the law specifies, it is there by the court considered, ordered and adjudges that the 997 cases of liquor seized in Hempstead County, Arkansas by enforcement agents on October 24 be and the same are hereby declared to be contraband and the County Judge in the County of Hempstead, Arkansas, is hereby authorized to sell said liquors in accordance with terms of Act 248 of 1969 of the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas.

One law enforcement officer estimated the whole value of the liquor in excess of $50,000.

Representing the State in the case was John Robert Graves, deputy prosecuting attorney while Hayes C. McClerkin represents the liquor firm.

Justification For Many Complaints

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A member of the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees says there is justification for many complaints alleged by Negro students at the school.

G. Thomas Eisele of Little Rock, who recently spent two days at the school, made the statement Saturday. Eisele, a lawyer, said one of the major reasons for discontent among Negro students is that only 133 of the school's 13,000 students are black.

Eisele said an increase in the number of Negro students would help solve the problem. He said many Negroes do not attend the school because they are afraid they will not succeed.

Now the day of reckoning approaches—and you are about to lose one-third of your auto glass insurance by the $50 deduction method.

Will we get some action out of the State Highway Department? I suggest you make representations to both your insurance agency and the highway department.

Corporations Among Lawyers Is Granted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today granted a request by the executive committee of the Arkansas Bar Association for authority to set up corporations among lawyers.

Only Associate Justice Conley Byrd dissented from a per curiam order handed down by the court today in response to the petition filed by the committee last Oct. 6.

The petition said 47 states have adopted laws providing for professional corporations, which allow their members to benefit from some tax laws and also establish retirement programs.

Amendment 28 to the Arkansas Constitution gives the State Supreme Court the responsibility of regulating the bar.

Byrd gave no explanation for his dissent.

More Strain Is Likely Between Nixon and Congressional GOPs

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's relations with congressional Republicans, already damaged in the Senate by the Haynsworth Supreme Court nomination, are under further strain in two coming House votes.

The administration's position on antipoverty and voting rights legislation has sharply divided House Republicans and put the GOP leadership in a difficult position in trying to line up votes.

So split are Republicans on the antipoverty bill, the leadership had been unable to lay

Draft Lottery Will Start Monday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every draft-age man in the nation has a ticket in Monday night's new Selective Service lottery, a ticket he received the day he was born.

For the order in which birth-draws are drawn from a big glass jar will largely determine each man's chance of being drafted in 1970—or, for some, in a future year.

Every man who reaches at least age 19 but not 26 by Dec. 31, 1969 has a stake in this drawing.

For some, the waiting will be short, the result conclusive.

As the first capsule is drawn, about 8 p.m. EST and the date written on a paper inside it is announced, men who share that birthday and are classified IA can be virtually certain to receive their draft call soon after the New Year ushers in 1970.

Men sharing that first-drawn birthday, but who are deferred or exempt, will know they stand to be drafted if they lose their deferment or exemption.

One by one the little plastic capsules will be drawn, each containing a different day of the year—366 in all, including Leap Year's Feb. 29.

The White House estimates some 290,000 draftable men will join the armed services voluntarily next year, leaving about 560,000 to take their chances. Out of that remainder, some 260,000—about 46 per cent—must be drafted under current planning.

If it were only a matter of arithmetic, the first 170 birth-draws drawn would just about provide 1970's draftees, but there are a lot of unpredictable factors that blur that dividing line.

It may vary considerably from one local draft board to another, reaching a higher number here, a lower one there.

Still for those men with the first birthdays drawn—maybe the first 140 or 150 or so—the uncertainty of the draft lottery is over.

Cashing a Traveler's Check Summons Up a Guilt Feeling Usually

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent
GIBRALTAR (AP) — What is there about cashing a traveler's check that unlayers the larceny lurking in the hearts of all men? Why does the hand tremble and the pulse palpitate?

Signing an ordinary bank check, even a dubious, post-dated one, doesn't summon up similar feelings of guilt.

You've paid for the traveler's checks: They're perfectly valid and up to date and suitably crisp, just like real money. There is even a picture of justice or Mercury or some classic cat in his skivvies to denote leg tenderness, and check is spelled cheque to show that the World Bank or the International Monetary Fund or maybe the Indian money-changers have been dealt in on the deal.

Yet, here you are in a crowded shop on an alien shore trembling at the mere formality of duplicating your own signature. Bonnie and Clyde on their first job couldn't have been this jumpy.

Fulbright Raps Pentagon Promotions

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright said today "the Pentagon has been staffed and armed to promote itself through shaping public opinion, using a varied arsenal of public relations weapons."

The Arkansas Democrat, who is chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he will seek to limit such programs by an amendment to the upcoming defense appropriations bill.

Fulbright also said he will seek to strike funds for certain specific programs, including an $87,386.48 television newsfilm program designed to spotlight "feature aspects of the military participation in Southeast Asia."

Fulbright's remarks, prepared for Senate delivery today, are the first in a series of speeches he plans to give in the Senate this week.

$108,000 Judgement Reversed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today reversed the damage judgment of $108,000 in a land condemnation case because Arkansas Highway Commission attorneys were not allowed enough latitude in cross-examining a key witness for the land owner.

The high court said Circuit Court Judge Henry B. Means erred by overly restricting the cross-examination while sitting as a circuit judge in Faulkner County during a temporary exchange of assignments. Means is from Malvern. Circuit Court Judge Russell Roberts normally would have sat on the case.

The land in question was owned by William J. Dean. The commission took 11.04 of Dean's 85.55 acres for construction of Interstate 40 in Faulkner County.

C. V. Barnes, a witness for Dean, examined 250 land transaction records and estimated that Dean was due damages of $86,000 because of the commission action. However, commission attorneys were denied permission to delve deeply into Barnes' research.

The jury awarded damages of $108,000. The high court declined to discuss whether the jury award was too large, saying the cross-examination restrictions were sufficient ground for reversal.

In another commission case, the Supreme Court affirmed a Nevada County Chancery Court ruling awarding a judgment of $5,500 against the commission.

The case began in 1962 when the commission took action to widen and pave a dirt road in front of the Nevada County homes of Steve Marlar and others.

The commission was ordered to post $10,000 bond to protect a claim by land owners that the commission was taking some of their property. In a trial in December 1968 it was found that the public easement was not as wide as the highway department had asserted and that the property of some private land owners was involved. The judgment was awarded as compensation for private property taken as part of the right-of-way.

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller promised to continue Christian efforts he said that began with building a chapel at the Tucker Prison Farm to bring spiritual values to inmates.

The $45,000 chapel was dedicated Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Rex Humbard of Akron, Ohio, who dedicated the chapel "to the glory of God and the betterment of men in the state of Arkansas."

An evangelist, Humbard helped raise $10,000 for the chapel on his radio and television program.

After Haynsworth Deal Senate Won't Tighten Its Own Code of Ethics

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate seems unlikely to tighten its own code of ethics in the wake of its rejection of the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

Senators show little disposition at this time to go beyond the limited disclosures rules adopted by the Senate last year.

Sen. John J. Williams, the Delaware Republican known as the Senate ethics watchdog, said in an interview that while he thinks the present Senate disclosure rules need tightening, he has heard no discussion by his colleagues of taking action in the wake of the Haynsworth case.

He said most of them seem to prefer to forget about the controversy over Haynsworth "and to talk about other things like taxes."

Williams was among senators who voted against Haynsworth's confirmation, after contending the judge should have disqualified himself because of financial interests in some cases in which he participated.

Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, who voted against Haynsworth's nomination and who is the newest member of the Senate's ethics committee, said he has reservations about requiring public financial reports from members of Congress.

He drew a distinction between judges, who are appointed for life, and members of Congress elected by the people. He said he didn't think a double standard had been applied in the Haynsworth case.

Jordan voted against a public disclosure proposal last year, as did Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., the chairman, and Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, the vice chairman, of the ethics panel. It

Contract Let for Work on Red River

Another step in the controlling of the Red River has been taken by the New Orleans District, Corps of Engineers, in the awarding of a contract for revetment work to Carter Construction Co., Inc. of Benton, Ark.

The $292,200 contract is for construction at Grand Escore, La. about ten miles north of Natchitoches, La. The contract calls for reinforcement of the left descending bank of the Red River. This will be accomplished by inserting approximately 2,250 linear feet of board mattress revetment.

In announcing the award, Colonel Herbert R. Haar, district engineer, said that the contract was assigned after advertising and the receipt of formal bids.

Fewer GIs in War Than in Two Years

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American military strength in Vietnam has dropped below 480,000 men for the first time in two years, continuing a five-month trend downward that began with the first troop withdrawals last summer, the U.S. Command announced today.

There was increased speculation that President Nixon before the end of the year will announce more withdrawals beyond the 60,000-men reduction ordered so far this year.

The U.S. Command said that as of last Thursday there were 479,500 American troops in the country, a drop of 4,900 men during the previous week and 4,500 under the maximum of 484,000 Nixon set for Dec. 15.

American troop strength in Vietnam was 485,600 two years ago and rose to a high of 543,400 last April.

Meanwhile, enemy attacks across South Vietnam were reported at a low level, but allied spokesmen said this was part of the cyclic pattern that has prevailed in the past year.

Viet Cong sappers moving behind a mortar barrage blasted their way into the compound of a U.S. Army combat support unit eight miles north of the big American supply base at Cam Ranh bay.

Security forces and helicopter gunships attacked the Viet Cong commandos, and they withdrew within an hour. Headquarters said three Americans were wounded. Material damage was reported light. There was no report of enemy casualties.

Militiamen and U.S. artillery killed 40 Viet Cong Sunday on the northern edge of the Mekong Delta, the allied command reported, while the Viet Cong made two small attacks on the government pacification program deeper in the Delta.

One South Vietnamese soldier was reported killed and three wounded in the clash between the Viet Cong and militiamen in a rice paddy in Long An province, 24 miles southwest of Saigon. The militiamen killed 27 of the enemy, and then American artillery killed 13 more as they were withdrawing, allied communiques said.

Three civilians were reported killed and four wounded when Viet Cong terrorists threw a hand grenade into a hamlet 60 miles southwest of Saigon.

Forty miles farther south, Viet Cong troops moving behind a mortar barrage attacked a village administrative office defended by 12 militiamen. One South Vietnamese was killed and six were wounded. There apparently were no Viet Cong casualties.

Lt. Gen. Julian J. Ewell, commander of the U.S. 2nd Field Force covering the Saigon region, said Long An province is the only region in his command where allied troops are "putting on real pressure" in the pacification effort.

"It's just a grinding pressure," Ewell said. "The five local force (Viet Cong) battalions there vary in strength from 50 men to 200 men and they're really in bad shape."

Ewell said the Viet Cong are still putting some replacements into the area, "but the strength of the battalions is slowly going down."

The U.S. Command also reported that American forces pounded a main infiltration route from Cambodia with ground and air strikes Saturday and killed 73 North Vietnamese, but the enemy shot down four U.S. Army helicopters, killing five crewmen and injuring four.

Allied headquarters said there were 13 enemy rocket and mortar attacks between 8 a.m. Sunday and 8 a.m. Monday, the smallest number in a week. Five of the attacks caused casualties or damage. Two Americans were wounded.

North Vietnamese troops continued their shelling of the Bu Prang Special Forces camp near the Cambodian border 110 miles northeast of Saigon. Scores of rockets and mortar rounds hit the base Monday morning, wounding nine South Vietnamese troops. Some material damage was reported.

was rejected 45-40.

The committee apparently wants to give the present limited disclosure system that only went into effect this year a further trial.

Under the present system two types of financial reports must be filed each year by senators and by Senate officials and employees whose salary is over $15,000 a year.

One is a confidential report, filed with the comptroller general in a sealed envelope. It includes a copy of the previous year's federal income tax return and a listing of assets, liabilities, client fees, business connections, and gifts.

The other report, filed with the secretary of the Senate and available for public inspection, must list contributions received during the preceding year and the use made of them. It also must give the amount and source of each honorarium of $300 or more.

Although the prevailing opinion seems to be against any further ethics legislation, there are some senators with a differing view.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., an advocate of full financial disclosure by members of Congress, says he is optimistic that this "is not far away."

"It would be ironic if the ethical searchlight that has just been trained on the Haynsworth nomination were to be put out now that the case is closed," Percy told the Senate this week.

Nixon Offers Peace Plan for Mid-East

By ENORE MARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration will make a major effort to get Israel to follow a new U.S. peace plan for the Middle East, but only if the Soviet Union accepts the proposal first, according to high-ranking officials.

But, the sources say, chances of a Soviet okay are slim. In any event some officials believe no definite answer to the American proposals will come before the December 20 summit conference of Arab heads of state.

In an extensive review on the eve of the resumption in New York of Big Four consultations on the Middle East, the officials summed up the new U.S. proposal, handed to Soviet ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin Oct. 28, as follows:

—Israel should withdraw behind its pre-1967 borders with Egypt in exchange for Cairo's "binding commitment" to establish peace with Tel Aviv—and to keep it.

—Both sides also would commit themselves to start talks with each other on the basis of the so-called Rhodes formula on "practical security arrangements" regarding the Gaza Strip and Sharm El Sheikh, the strong point guarding the entrance to the Strait of Tiran and the Gulf of Aqaba.

The Rhodes formula, applied in the 1949 Arab-Israeli armistice talks on the Greek island of Rhodes, means that representatives of the two belligerents would be under one roof but would talk to each other indirectly through a mediator.

Persuading Israel to adhere to the plan will be a difficult task, officials acknowledge, but there is no point in trying before the Russians accept it, which would also mean Egypt's acceptance.

These figures do not include such costs as transportation and other overhead expenses Fulbright said, adding: "It would be fair to suggest that the real total figure is much larger."

Noting Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's contention a small group of men controlled network television news, Fulbright said "the Senate and the public has little knowledge of the extent to which the Pentagon has been staffed and armed to promote itself through public opinion using a varied arsenal of public relations weapons."

The sum involved, he added, "compares favorably to advertising budgets of good-sized companies in business to sell products to the public."

Only $3.7 million of the identifiable Pentagon public relations budget is spent by the secretary of defense, Fulbright said. That sum includes such programs as the Joint Civilian Orientation Conference, through which groups of 70 civilians are taken on eight-day cross-country tours, and a speakers program which included 57 speeches by Army Chief of Staff Gen. William G. Westmoreland between August 1968 and May 1969.

The senator was especially critical of the Defense Department newsmagazine program, under which five camera crews are maintained in Vietnam. The film is supplied to U.S. stations.

"What justification or legal authority is there for the Defense Department to go into the business of putting out newsmagazines on the feature aspects of the military participation in Southeast Asia?" Fulbright asked.

"Perhaps Vice President Agnew, who last week appealed to the networks to put on different commentators has not felt the necessary to complain about the TV coverage from Vietnam because he knew at least a portion of it was emanating directly from armed services in Vietnam," he said.

"There is enough administration propaganda on Vietnam being provided the American public through speeches and statements without providing this additional outlet in the guise of 'objective' newsmagazines," Fulbright said.

METHODIST KINDERGARTEN CELEBRATES THANKSGIVING

The children of Methodist Kindergarten celebrated Thanksgiving with a religious service and a party at the kindergarten on Wednesday, November 26. The group went to the church sanctuary for a brief Thanksgiving service when they sang a hymn and repeated a Thanksgiving prayer which the children had composed. Then, in the playroom, they dramatized the events of the first American Thanksgiving using a child size log cabin which the children built, a walk-in Indian teepee and a canoe. Later the children enjoyed a "feast" which they had prepared. The main decoration in the serving area was a mural illustrating one of the children's favorite songs and representing the cooperative art work of the entire group. To climax the party and to round out the unit study, the children donned Indian headaddresses which they had made and beat tom-toms and performed an Indian war dance.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

A local Friday Bridge Club met with Mrs. R.E. Cooper on November 28 in a setting enhanced by bronze chrysanthemums. In addition to the club members, Mrs. Bill Mudgett and Mrs. Garrett Story were also guests.

High scorers among the two tables of players were Mrs. C. C. Lewis and Mrs. Mildred Rogers. The hostess served a salad plate and coffee.

Mrs. Frances Sue Sommerville and Henry, with Suzanne Sommerville of Houston, went to Dallas for Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Hal Branch and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jones, Jr., Little Rock, had a delayed Thanksgiving Day dinner on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. James H. Jones.

Jim: "Wouldn't it be nice if finesses always worked and suits always broke the way you wanted them to?"

Oswald: "It would be heaven for you but hell for your opponents. Meanwhile you should concentrate on making the best of your cards the way they actually fall."

Jim: "In this connection it is most important to study all possibilities before committing yourself. This hand played in a rubber bridge game by my Dallas Aces teammate Mike Lawrence illustrates this."

Oswald: "I see what you mean. If Mike led a trump at trick two the combination of a singleton club and three trumps in the West hand would have cost him slam, game and rubber."

Jim: "Mike is a pretty fast player but he thought quite awhile before leading to the second trick. He decided that the actual bad break was far more probable than to find all six spades in one hand and that he should play ace and another spade to see what would happen."

Oswald: "He found out quickly enough. West dropped the king under the ace, but when he had to follow to the second spade Mike was sure of his contract."

Jim: "With spades breaking 4-2 he was able to ruff two spades in dummy. Thus a trump lead could not hurt him. Also he was careful to ruff the club when East led it."

Oswald: "As is frequently the case with successful slams, the hand could have been beaten. If West had opened a trump the combination of bad breaks in spades, hearts and clubs would have been too much for him to handle."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

IS SMOKE SCREEN A CURE?

Dear Helen: My husband and I made a pact that if I'd stop smoking he would. I stopped. But he sneaks them.

I faced him with it, and he says he can't quit. No way! The more he worries about it, the more he craves tobacco, to calm his nerves.

He's still healthy, but for how long? Do I cave in or keep nagging?—WORRIED WIFE

Dear Wife: Nagging won't help. But group therapy might. Almost every town has "smoke control" clinics these days. Watch your newspaper for announcements and nudge (don't nag) your husband toward enrollment.

Latest effort along this line is the "saturation treatment." Volunteers (who must be healthy, willing and desperate) agree to remain in a closed room, smoking one cigarette after another—no let-up—for twelve hours. They may play cards, read, eat (if they're able) drink non-alcoholic beverages, talk (mainly about their habit)—but they must never have a cigarette out of their hands. If one of the group falters, the others insist he light up. Four packs per person is the minimum.

Many who have suffered through this behavioral psychology experiment insist they can never smoke again: The mere thought of a cigarette makes them nauseous.

"When your eyes run a river, your mouth tastes like burned rubber, your throats on fire and your stomach is doing flip flops—yet you HAVE to take the next cigarette, and the next, and the next—well, when it's over, you've had it with tobacco! And the feeling lasts." So says a man who went the saturation route last month.

"But remember," he adds, "this is not for everyone: Only the healthy ones whose doctors say they can take it."—H.

Dear Helen: You mentioned singles clubs for widowed and divorced people. Please tell us more about them.—LONELY

Dear Lonely: Parents Without Partners is the best known of these "singles" clubs. The national address is 80-5th Ave., New York, and if there is a local group, it will be listed in your telephone book.

Most large cities have a variety of singles clubs these days. They aren't hard to locate, for the reputable ones should be listed at your local library.

If there is no such organization in your area, then start a campaign. You'll find lots of backers!—H.

Dear Helen: After 30 years of marriage, raising a family, playing the donkey around our house, doing everything to please my husband, I have discovered he has a separate bank account!

Do you blame me for holding a silent grudge!—HURT

Dear Hurt: Why silent? Ask your husband what gives. And keep in mind that a husband's separate bank account MIGHT be earmarked for a joint retirement trip. Haven't YOU ever fudged on household money to buy the family something special?—H.

Monuments Rededicated at Rohwer

ROHWER, Ark. (AP)—Two cemetery monuments, marking the site where the Rohwer War Relocation Camp once stood, were rededicated here Sunday.

During World War II, more than 10,000 Japanese-Americans were interned at the camp in Desha County. The monuments honor the men who left the camp to join the 442nd Infantry Battalion in Italy and France and the aged Nisei who died and were buried here.

Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., the master of ceremonies said, "They marched with us and they marched for us, and no fighting unit of comparable size was as much decorated."

Mike M. Masaoka of Washington, a representative of the Japanese American Citizens League, was the principal speaker.

"We did suffer—make no mistake—but we had friends who believed in us and we came from behind barbed wire to prove that democracy works," he said.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—One ice show, inevitably, is pretty much like another ice show—they are not, after all, television rarities. And, to some segments of the viewing public, one singing group with a guitar sounds a lot like another.

But an ice show starring Peggy Fleming who as an amateur captured an olympic gold medal, is a viewing treat. And the first hour-long TV concert by Simon and Garfunkel, the talented young team of singers-composers, surely comes under the same heading. Unfortunately, their special programs were scheduled on NBC and CBS respectively at the same hour Sunday night.

The Simon and Garfunkel hour was an unusual and compelling treatment of their music, their ideas and their emotions. It was handled partly by their singing of their own music against a montage of film and TV clips, some old, some new.

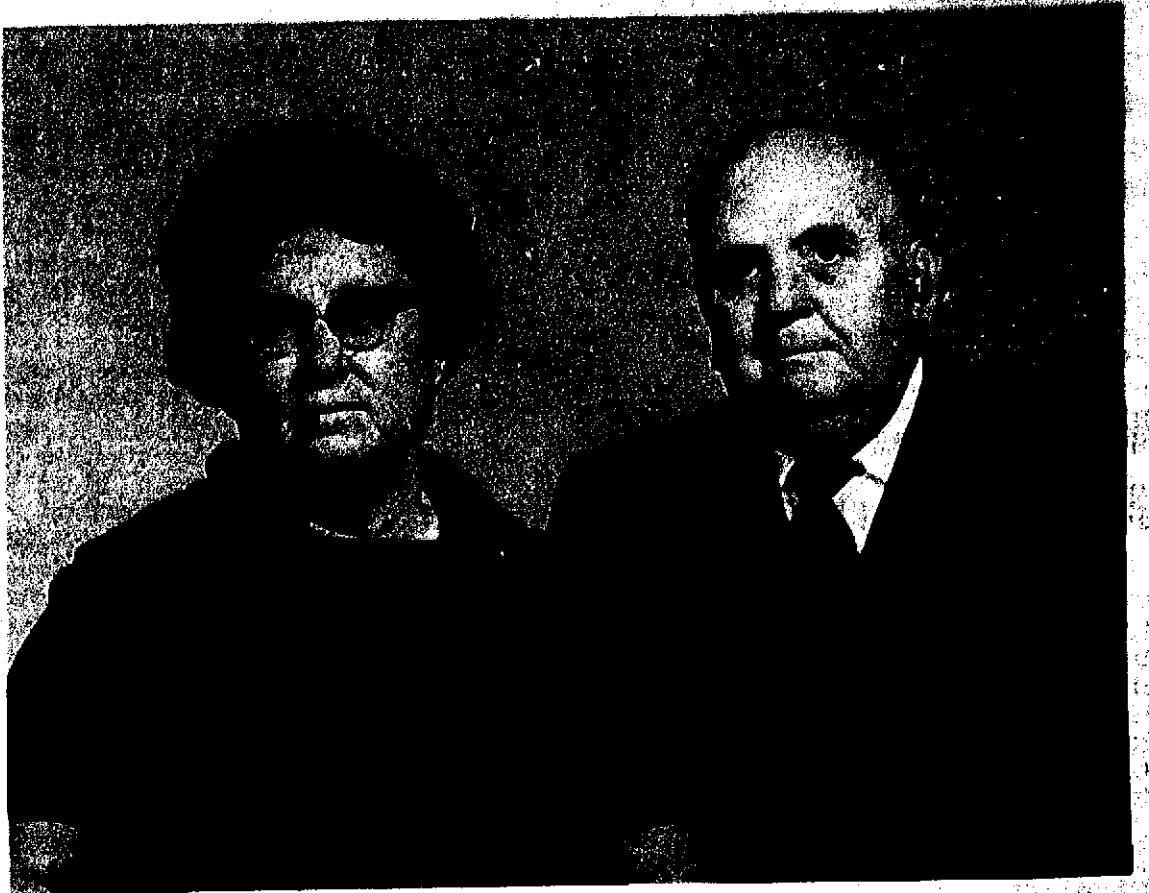

When they talked, it was the single voice of today's young—against violence and war, of emptiness and a loss of direction. But it was their bitterness and nostalgic music heard against a visual background of mountains and towns, cornfields and superhighways that was most effective.

It was an interesting attempt to do something different in a musical form.

Peggy Fleming and the ice follies was a big, sleek and colorful skating extravaganza, lavishly produced and beautifully choreographed. Miss Fleming, now a professional, is as graceful and easy today as in her Olympic days.
